Introduction

Town of Peeksville
Comprehensive Plan - Policy Document

Foreword

In 2002, all of the jurisdictions in Ashland County worked in concert to submit a grant to the Wisconsin Land Council to help fund the preparation of comprehensive plans for each consistent with the new planning legislation adopted in 1999. The application was funded in 2003. The County hired Vierbicher Associates to assist with the county-wide plan, and plans for 15 of the 16 individual jurisdictions.

What is a Comprehensive Plan?

A comprehensive plan is a document that describes a long-term vision that a community wants to achieve. It is a broad brush look at the entire community in terms of where it is now and where it would like to be in the coming years. It looks at the many parts of the community, how the community functions, and its role in the region.

The future vision is depicted with maps showing future conditions and with goals, objectives, and policies. Tasks and activities are also identified that need to be achieved to help implement the plan. By law, this comprehensive plan must look out at least 20 years.

“A comprehensive plan is intended to provide a rational basis for making local land use decisions and to serve as a blueprint for community-wide effort to achieve its vision.”

Having described what a comprehensive plan is, it's also appropriate to describe what a comprehensive plan is not. Because a comprehensive plan is strategic in scope, it does not focus on physical design elements. It does not design a park for example, although the plan may identify a need for the park and prescribe some parameters for creating one. Neither is a comprehensive plan an engineering document intended to fix safety problems at a particular road intersection, for example. The fine details of design and engineering and many others will flow from the basic direction described in the plan.

How Will This Plan Be Used?

Prior to the passage of the comprehensive planning legislation in 1999, most comprehensive plans in Wisconsin were not used as intended. In practice, many communities used their plans sporadically and inconsistently. Other plans were soon forgotten following adoption.

After January 1, 2010, land use decisions including zoning, subdivision regulations, and official mapping will have to be consistent with this plan (Exhibit 1-1). This means that land use regulations of these types must be revised or prepared so as to implement the vision articulated in this plan. Not only do the regulations have to be consistent with the plan, all individual decisions affecting land use must be consistent with the plan.

Each rezoning after 2010, by law, has to be consistent with the community's comprehensive plan, including the future land use map.

Public Participation and Adoption Process

Prior to starting the planning process, the town board adopted a public participation plan, consistent with state requirements (§66.1001(4)a, Wis. Stats), to document the ways town residents would be involved in the preparation, review, and approval of the plan.

Preparation and adoption of this plan occurred over a 36-month period. The town board established an advisory planning committee and gave it the responsibility of developing the first draft of the plan. After the committee finished its work, it submitted a draft plan to the town's plan commission, which by statute must adopt a resolution recommending it to the town board. The plan commission reviewed the draft as prepared by the committee and made changes prior to sending it to the town board with its recommendation. The town board adopted the plan by ordinance, a copy of which is included as Appendix A. Following plan adoption, a copy of the adopted plan was mailed to the surrounding governmental entities, Wisconsin Department of Administration, and others as required by state law.

A county oversight committee was also established and consulted throughout the planning process. The oversight committee's role was to oversee the county-wide planning process, and to ensure that the individual jurisdiction comprehensive plans included a regional perspective.

Organization of Plan Documents

The comprehensive plan for Ashland County, as well as each individual jurisdiction, consists of two documents. The first document is the background report. It contains information that describes what is and what has been. It is organized into the following chapters

- ◆ Housing
- ◆ Transportation
- ◆ Utilities and Community Facilities
- ◆ Agricultural, Natural, and Cultural Resources
- ◆ Economic Development
- ◆ Intergovernmental Cooperation
- ◆ Land Use
- ◆ Demographics

The second document is referred to as the policy document. It focuses on future conditions including

- ◆ Community Vision
- ◆ Goals, Objectives, and Policies
- ◆ Plan Based Forecasts
- ◆ Future Land Use
- ◆ Future Transportation
- ◆ Future Utilities & Community Facilities

Collectively, the background document and policy document constitute the comprehensive plan.

Plan Monitoring and Amendment

From time to time, it will become necessary to amend this plan. The specific details regarding the amendment process are outlined in the chapter entitled “General Provisions”.

Community Survey

A written questionnaire was sent to a random sample of households in the county during fall 2003, in an effort to collect resident opinions and preferences on a number of important questions relating to the preparation of this plan.

The survey consisted of four pages and included approximately 20 questions. Sixteen of the questions were standard questions asked of the entire county sample, while the remaining questions were specific to the community that the respondent lived in. Of the 1,800 surveys that were mailed out, there was a response rate of 32 percent. Survey results were used to fashion this plan’s long-term vision. A copy of the summary report is on file with the town clerk.

Previous Local Planning Efforts

The Town of Peeksville has not had a plan prepared specifically for their use.

Statewide Plans

A number of statewide and national forest policy plans have also been prepared (Exhibit 1-2). Each of these was used as a resource during this planning effort. Relevant plans will be discussed in more detail throughout the plan where appropriate.

Community Vision and Plan Implementation

Town of Peeksville
Comprehensive Plan - Policy Document

Introduction

As most travelers know, it's a good thing to know where you're going and generally how to get there. While an adventurous traveler may relish the unknown, a community can't leave its future to happenstance. It takes a lot of hard work to maintain a high quality of life.

Healthy communities don't just happen – it takes commitment and hard work to develop and sustain them.

And it all starts with a clear vision.

It will also help give direction to a wide range of non-governmental organizations providing services within the community. It will guide the formation (or revision) of land development regulations, including zoning regulations.

Chapter Contents
◆ Introduction
◆ Goals, Objectives, Policies, and Plan Implementation

The town's vision, as shown in the inset box, is a description of what the town will be like in 20 years. The goals, objectives, and policies listed in this chapter build off of the vision statement.

The information provided in this chapter will help to guide decisions and decision-makers in the coming years. It will guide development occurring in the private sector. It will guide capital expenditures made by the Town Board and the various town departments.

A Vision for Peeksville

In the next twenty years, we envision limited realistic growth that sustains the lifestyle we currently enjoy.

Goals, Objectives, Policies, and Plan Implementation

Goals, objectives, and policies help to put the vision statement into bite-sized pieces and provide additional guidance for decision-makers. A goal is a long-term target that may or may not be achieved, but describes a desired outcome. Objectives are slightly different than goals. Objectives are measurable and therefore achievable. When an objective is achieved, one can see or sense a difference – something has changed.

In contrast, a policy is a statement describing a predetermined position on a particular issue or opportunity. These policy statements are designed to help achieve one or more objectives. Achieving an objective, in whole or in part, will help achieve a stated goal.

Community Vision and Plan Implementation

Goals
1. Housing
2. Transportation
3. Utilities and Community Facilities
4. Agriculture
5. Natural Resources
6. Cultural Resources
7. Economic Development
8. Intergovernmental
9. Land Use
10. Community Involvement
11. Plan Monitoring and Evaluation

Implementation actions are identified here as specific things that should be done to achieve these goals, objectives, and policies.

The town has a lot to do with the quality of life in the community. However, it cannot or should not try to do it all alone. Many other local entities can also help achieve the overall vision for the Town. Churches, civic organizations, the school district, and community leaders, for example, can and do affect the quality of life for town residents.

Given the limited resources these entities have,

it will become very important for each of these to look for public/private partnerships whenever they can.

It should be noted that preparation of this plan, and especially the future transportation, and land use maps, implement a number of the goals, objectives, and policies outlined below.

Some of the goals and objectives contained in this chapter can be mapped. These maps identify in broad terms how development should occur in the future and is included in Chapter 5. Once adopted, the maps will form the basis for more specific land development regulations. The future transportation map, also included in Chapter 5, identifies how the transportation network should look by the end of the 20-year planning period.

This comprehensive plan has been drafted as an integrated whole so that all of the parts are consistent with and support each other and the town's overall vision. As discussed in chapter 4, much of the plan centers on the anticipated change in the town's population base. The growth rate and the number of additional housing units certainly have direct implications for the housing stock and also for land use. The future land use map has been fashioned to identify those areas where additional development could occur. Environmental constraints such as wetlands, floodplains, and other environmentally sensitive resources dictate what areas should be left undeveloped or perhaps used in such a way as to preserve the integrity of the resource. In turn, the transportation plan along with the goals, objectives, and policies all support housing and future land use considerations. The same holds true for community facilities and utilities. The presence or absence of certain facilities/services can help to define those areas best suited for development. Economic development strategies recognize the town's position in the regional economy and accommodate the growing population. Because all of the goals, objectives, and policies are contained in this one chapter, it is possible to ensure consistency by reviewing just a few pages out of the entire plan.

Issues and Opportunities

Town of Peeksville
Comprehensive Plan - Policy Document

Introduction

This part of the plan documents the issues that were considered in the preparation of this policy document. The importance of issues can not be overstated. This whole planning exercise and the resultant plan was issue driven.

Issues can be emerging concerns or old unresolved problems. An issue could be addressed one time, never to reemerge for a long time. Or, an issue could never really go away and may always need attention.

Issues could range from localized concerns to those that are more global and affect many communities throughout the state and nation. Although the town has limited control over global, national, or statewide events, they are included here to ensure that they are considered and factored in the preparation of this plan to the extent appropriate.

The success of this plan in part rests on identifying relevant issues, prioritizing them for action, and adopting appropriate goals, objectives, and policies to address each.

This chapter also identifies those types of businesses that are compatible with the town's long-term vision.

Identification of Issues and Opportunities

In fall 2003, a public meeting was conducted to identify strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats facing Peeksville. Over the course of the planning process additional ideas were also generated. Input from that brainstorming session and subsequent input is shown in Exhibit 3-1.

Exhibit 3-2 lists the issues and opportunities that were of common concern to those jurisdictions participating in this multi-jurisdictional planning effort. Each issue was ranked using a 10-point scale to help determine its relative importance. Also, each issue was evaluated to determine if it is becoming more important or less important in the Town, or whether it is stable with little movement anticipated.

Community Survey

A community survey was sent to a sample of households in the town to better understand their perceptions and preferences on a range of issues. Many of the questions were designed to solicit input on some of the issues identified in the SWOT analysis and were worded to gauge support for or opposition to various options.

The survey results were compiled and summarized in a separate document. This document is available by contacting the Town Clerk. Input from that survey is incorporated here and elsewhere in this plan as appropriate.

◆ Public Meetings

Over the course of the planning project, a number of public meetings were held to help identify and clarify the list of issues relevant to this plan. These meetings were held with the local Comprehensive Plan Committee, and were open to the public. The purpose of these meetings was to gather information about the community, and develop a comprehensive plan that was tailored to the needs of the Town.

◆ Issues and Opportunities

Exhibit 3.2 provides an extensive list of identified issues and opportunities within the Town of Peeksville. The list is broken up into categories, and within each category is an assortment of items that deal with that particular topic. The Town has identified the level of importance of each item, and indicated whether the importance of the issue was growing in the community, or declining. The dots following each item indicate the rank of importance with an up arrow indicating increasing importance, while a down arrow indicates decreasing importance. An item with a dash means that the item is neither increasing nor decreasing in importance.

Economic Development Approach

This section documents in general terms the town’s approach to economic development. It should be emphasized that this section has a limited scope. It certainly doesn’t substitute for a detailed economic development plan or strategic plan. It looks at economic development primarily from the perspective of its relationship to land use. It focuses on what types of economic activity are compatible with the town’s long-term vision. It then identifies the town’s strengths in attracting and keeping those types of businesses and weaknesses that may be working to keep those types of businesses from coming to the town.

◆ Desirable Businesses

As part of the planning process, we asked the question: “What types of economic activities are consistent with the town’s vision”. The types are shown in Exhibit 3-3, which range from very specific businesses to broad classes of businesses.

◆ Assessment of Strengths and Weaknesses

Having identified the types of economic activity that are part of the town’s vision, two questions arise. First, “What will draw them here?” And secondly, “What is keeping them from coming?” The results are shown in Exhibit 3-4.

Introduction

This chapter presents each of the four 20-year forecasts that are fundamental to the preparation of this plan. The smart growth legislation requires that the plan be based on population forecasts over the 20-year planning horizon.¹ The anticipated population base can then be translated into the number of additional housing units that will be needed over the planning period to accommodate the anticipated population base. This same section of the legislation also requires a set of 20-year forecasts for employment.

Table 4-1 presents the four sets of forecasts. The following sections in this chapter present background information about each of the forecasts and describe in more detail how they were prepared.

Population Forecasts

Recognizing that the Town of Peeksville can influence the rate of population growth in the coming years and is not strictly bound by historical trends, the community decided to generally maintain the rate by which it grew between 1990 and 2000. After evaluating a number of growth rates and looking at potential consequences of each, an annual average growth rate of 0.5 percent was selected and is used throughout this plan. This rate is consistent with the town's long-term vision and is a realistic assessment.

Table 4-3 shows the year-end population counts and the number of new residents added in each of the five-year increments based on this growth rate. Between 2006 and 2025, approximately 20 new residents are anticipated.

Because a certain percentage of the population may be living in an institutional setting (e.g., nursing home, group home), forecasts were also prepared showing the population living in a household setting (Table 4-3). This step is needed to accurately estimate the number of acres needed for residential purposes. For the purpose of this plan, it is assumed that the total population will be living in a household situation over the next 20-year period.

Housing Forecasts

Having established the anticipated resident population living within the Town in a household setting, it is possible to forecast the number of housing units that will be needed to accommodate the growing population.

The number of households was estimated by dividing the anticipated population living in a household by the average household size for each of the time periods. Nationally, the average household size has been on a steady downward trend for a number of decades. This trend is also evident throughout much of Wisconsin and in Peeksville. From 1990 to 2000, the average household size in the Town declined from 3.04 to 2.59. It is anticipated this trend will continue throughout the planning period, but at a slower rate of decline, and cause the figure to drop to about 2.3.

This demographic trend suggests that even if the population of the Town did not grow, additional housing units would be needed to maintain the same population base to account for a smaller number of people living in each housing unit.

Table 4-4 shows the anticipated number of households over the 20-year planning horizon by year and for each of the 5-year increments. Having established the number of households that will be living in the Town, it is necessary to determine the number of housing units that will be needed to house them. The number of housing units will exceed the number of households in that a certain share of the housing units will be vacant at any point in time. A unit may be vacant because it is not considered a primary residence, because it is for rent or for sale, or it is not occupied for any number of other reasons. For the purpose of this plan, it is assumed that 2 percent of the housing units will be vacant at any point in time. The calculated number of housing units is also shown in Table 4-4.

Employment Forecasts

The future land use map is unrestrictive, and does not designate specific land areas for commercial or industrial enterprises. The anticipated acreage for these uses was estimated, and the number of potential new jobs by type was calculated (Table 4-5). During the first five-year increment, it is anticipated that the land designated for commercial and industrial land uses could support 20 additional jobs. The Town of Peeksville will continue to see a majority of residential development, with the potential for minimal industrial or commercial uses to locate in the area.

Land Use Forecasts

In Chapter 2, there is a set of objectives that are intended to help guide the housing mix of new residential development in the coming years, which are used to determine the number of housing units by type (Table 4-6).

The land area requirements for each of these housing types was calculated by applying an average density to each of the categories. These values were then adjusted upward to account for infrastructure (e.g., roads, smaller community parks). Table 4-6 shows the number of acres needed for each of the housing types for each of the five-year increments. The Town will continue to see low-density residential development, and a total of 1,167 acres should be reserved for residential purposes intended to occur over the next 20 years.

It should be noted that these data are intended for planning purposes only. It is important to keep tabs on actual development levels and update these forecasts based on more current information and to account for actual development activity and shifts in the housing market.

◆ Introduction
◆ Future Land Use Plan
◆ Future Transportation Plan
◆ Future Utilities and Community Facilities

Introduction

Among the most effective tools a community possesses to influence its future environment and quality of life is the ability to control and direct future growth patterns. This can be accomplished in a variety of ways, but is most commonly accomplished through zoning and land development ordinances, transportation systems, and public utilities.

For many years, transportation planning and land use planning were seen as independent activities. In recent years, however, there has been a growing recognition, especially at the state and federal levels, that land use and transportation are linked in that a change in one will undoubtedly have consequences for the other.

As the Town's population increases in the coming years, it is important to consider what additional utilities and community facilities may be needed to accommodate the additional residents. Although a growing population is an important consideration, it is not the only factor that needs consideration. Other demographics should be considered as well. As documented elsewhere in this plan, the aging population of Ashland County will have a profound impact on the types of public services that ought to be available.

This portion of the document is intended to answer a basic question: What type of land uses, transportation systems, utilities and community facilities will be needed to accommodate a growing population and a changing population base?

Future Land Use Plan

Through the zoning powers exercised by Ashland County, the Town of Peeksville has the opportunity to guide future growth in a manner that enhances its residents' quality of life and is consistent with its long-term vision. However, misguided or inappropriate use of these tools can lead to undesirable results including unnecessary land use conflicts, inefficient service delivery, a decreased quality of life, and premature loss of agricultural farmland, among other potential problems.

In the background report, environmental constraints for development were identified and mapped, including wetlands and floodplains. These factors are carried forward in this document and are portrayed on a development factors map. Using this information as a point of reference, a number of alternative development scenarios were developed. Each of these were developed and evaluated as the Town crafted its long-term vision.

The foundation for sound decision making is a clear land use plan based upon sound planning principles and the community's vision for its future.

As the vision of the community became more refined, a final land use plan was developed for future land uses.

The future land use map included in this chapter is intended to illustrate this vision and guide the future growth and development of Peeksville over the next 20 years and beyond. It will serve as a guide for the plan commission and Town Board when making land use, zoning, and infrastructure related decisions. It will also provide direction for private sector property owners and potential developers when making decisions about the future of their properties within Ashland County.

There are a wide range of factors that will ultimately affect future land use in Ashland County. These factors were taken into consideration when developing the future land use plan, which is shown in Map 5-3. The future land use map illustrates potential growth over the next 20 years based upon existing conditions, discussions at public meetings, goals of this plan, and direction from local committees.

Particularly in Ashland County, there are many natural restrictions that must be considered when developing the future land use map. Floodplains, wetlands, and forest land account for a large portion of the County. Farmland must also be considered for preservation, as the County has seen an overall dramatic decline of active agricultural land in the past ten years. The Bad River Indian Reservation extends over many acres in the County, and the potential of a future mine must be considered as well.

The upper northeast corner of the Town of Peeksville is covered by County forest land. The future land use plan depicts unrestricted development for the remainder of the land area in the Town. The plan-based forecasts project a growth in population of twenty people over the next twenty years, which is an additional sixteen households. This growth rate, coupled with the desire for economic growth and tax base expansion, allow the future land use map to portray little to no development restrictions in the Town.

Land Use Districts

Base Districts	General Description
Unrestricted	This district is intended to accommodate all uses, including residential, commercial, industrial, institutional, and recreational. However, adjacent or neighboring land uses should be compatible, and the Town may provide restrictions to allow for compatible development in order to avoid land use conflicts.
Base Districts	General Description
Wetland District	State law protects wetlands from inappropriate uses and development. This district identifies the approximate locations of wetlands greater than 5 acres in size which the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources has identified. All wetlands, both mapped and unmapped, should be protected to the greatest extent possible. The locations shown are approximate and field verification will be needed to determine the location and extent of wetlands on each parcel.
Floodplain District	State and federal law regulates land development activities with defined 100-year and 500-year floodplains. The boundary shown on the future land use map is intended to correspond to the floodplain maps adopted by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Note: These descriptions correspond to the districts shown on the future land use map.

Future Transportation Plan

The Town currently has a road system that is in good shape. The majority of roads in the Town are in good condition and those in poorer condition are slated for improvement. Given the low level of new development contemplated in the future land use plan, no new major road improvements have been identified. Likewise, the functional classification of the roads in the Town's boundary will not change either. Current dismantled rail beds are important assets to be retained for future rail use.

Map 5-2 shows the Future Transportation Network in the Town, in addition to the roadway classifications. The map indicates any proposed transportation facilities in the Town, including roadways and recreational trails. Currently, there are no new transportation facilities being proposed or recommended.

Future Utilities and Community Facilities

The table found in this chapter (Table 5.1) lists the Town's facilities and utilities and shows whether or not there are currently plans to expand, improve, or replace the utility or facility. If the facility or utility is marked 'adequate' this indicates that the Town currently has adequate service. If a facility or utility is marked as 'adequate'; however, this does not mean that the Town cannot change their assessment of the item in the future. This does not mean that there is not room for improvement. Utilities and facility can always be improved upon, and they may only be adequate to a certain point. The Town reviews the services it provides on a regular basis and will continue to do so in the future.

The Town provides no utilities. Most are provided by the county or by private service providers. The Town does not have any plans to expand, improve or replace any utility.

Although most utilities are provided by private entities, they can have an important impact on the Town and its residents.

Fire Protection

The Four Town Fire Protection Association, Inc. would like to purchase a new fire truck sometime in the next seven to ten years.

Telecommunications

The Town would like to see better Internet hook-up and DSL access. The Town would also like to see improved cellular reception.

Cemetery

The Town will maintain a cemetery within its current boundaries for the planning period.
